WHAT IS PTS?

PTS is a returning citizen/ex-offender and justice involved Workforce Development Program operated by Employ Prince George's.

HOW CAN WE HELP YOU?

PTS is designed to successfully reintegrate previously incarcerated or justice involved individuals into the DC Metropolitan Region by preparing them to be law-abiding citizens with stable housing and employment that provides a livable wage.

Understanding that successful and comprehensive reentry programs are holistic and collaborative efforts that address barriers returning citizens face.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

PTS has a strategic blend of multiple partners, programs and services that start when an individual is incarcerated, enters an American Job Center and notifies staff that they are a returning citizen, or if they are connected to the program by the criminal justice system.

PTS is built on a work-based learning model where participants are on-boarded in the program through an extensive 6 week process, placed into work-based learning opportunities and mandated to participate in various one-on-one and group setting trainings designed to build their career readiness, financial literacy, decision making, critical thinking, occupational skills, literacy, math computation, and basic life skills.
